

GreenLatinos Familia,

Climate-induced Hurricane Fiona has made its way through Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic- causing a lot of damage and leaving people without power and access to water. Most of the Island of Puerto Rico is still without power, and thousands lack access to clean water. In the Dominican Republic, the hurricane has put 59 aqueducts out of service, leaving more than 1 million people without running water. GreenLatinos stands with partner organizations Corazon Latino and Hispanic Federation, amongst others who are on the ground responding to this crisis. Our comunidades latinas are living in a climate crisis, and now is the time for us to come together and support however we can.

We have put together some links where you can send financial support for disaster relief. If unable to give financially, please make sure you spread the word on these resources to your networks.

In solidarity,

GreenLatinos Team
